

Peter Rossomando

University of New Haven

Rossomando was named the head football coach at UNH on December 13, 2007. He has 15 seasons of collegiate coaching experience under his belt, including eight years at the Division I level. In seven seasons as an assistant and associate head coach at Division I University at Albany, Rossomando helped the team to 46 wins, three conference championships and an ECAC title. This is Peter's second stop at UNH. As an assistant under Tony Sparano (now the head coach of the Miami Dolphins), Rossomando helped the Chargers to two NCAA appearances, including a spot in the 1997 national championship game. A native of Staten Island, N.Y., Rossomando played collegiately at Boston University.
