EDUCATION BRIEFS

July 29, 2008

Nancy Ortins Savage of West Hartford, a University of New Haven professor, has been honored by the Connecticut Quality Improvement Partnership for developing the first Engineering and Science Summer Institute for Young Women at the university in 2007.

Savage, who is working to encourage women to enter the fields of science, math, engineering and technology, will once again direct the summer institute on Aug. 3 to 7.
