BRIDGEPORT Officials from the University of New Haven and Housatonic Community College have signed an agreement that provides HCC graduates with a "seamless transfer" into UNH.

UNH is a private, four year institution with about 2,400 undergraduates. Located in West Haven, it also offers graduate degrees. HCC is a state-operated, two-year community college in downtown Bridgeport.

The agreement, signed by HCC President Anita T. Gliniecki and University of New Haven President Steven H. Kaplan, assures that HCC graduates in any field will be accepted into UNH provided they maintain a 2.5 grade point average, according to officials from both schools. It also provides grants up to $12,000 for "academically accomplished" students.

Prior to this new agreement, the two colleges had program-to-program transfer agreements for criminal justice and accounting majors.
