University of New Haven

Adjunct Faculty Positions

Physics Department: Search # Adj. - Phy.

Biology Department: Search # Adj. - Bio.

Due to recent strong increases in student enrollments in the sciences, the University of New Haven is seeking well qualified instructors to fill several adjunct faculty positions. In particular, faculty with strong backgrounds in Biology or Physics are sought to teach a range of general and upper level courses. The position requires an MS in an appropriate science and excellent communication and teaching skills. Experience in the application of those sciences in the modern workplace, along with a PhD is highly desirable.

Please send letter of interest and resume to:

hrdept@newhaven.edu

You must include the search # in the subject line of your email to be considered for the position

About the University

The University of New Haven is a private, top-tier comprehensive institution recognized as a national leader in experiential education. Founded in 1920 on the campus of Yale University in cooperation with Northeastern University, UNH moved to its current West Haven campus in 1960. The University provides its students with a unique combination of a solid liberal arts education and real-world, hands-on career and research opportunities. UNH enrolls approximately 6,400 students, including nearly 1,800 graduate students and more than 4,600 undergraduates.

UNH is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer