

University of New Haven

Sure Signs College Will Prepare Your Student for Success

As a parent, you understand the importance of helping your child find a college that will prepare them for success. Some colleges do this better than others, and we want to help find the place that's best for your child! Read on to discover the three sure signs a college is right for your student.

Sure Sign #1

Access to experiential learning

It's important to help your student explore colleges with a wide variety of experiential learning opportunities like study abroad, research, internships, and academic service learning.

When they have a chance to get out of the classroom to get hands-on experiences, they'll get the well-rounded education employers love.

At the University of New Haven, we love when our students not only learn on campus but also off campus and across the world! We have great resources on campus to support your professional and personal growth, like our Community Work Study program and the Career Development Center, which has been ranked among the best in the country by The Princeton Review. Plus, our satellite campuses in Tuscany, Italy and Orange, Connecticut provide even more immersive environments for hands-on study.

"I got an internship through one of my professors and ended up interning for the Connecticut state General Assembly. I was able to work on a body camera project for a local police department in a research capacity. I've helped out different legislators, done social media work, and did more than I ever thought I would."

Chris Fogarty

Criminal Justice, Class of '21

Sure Sign #2

Dedicated faculty, small classes

No matter where your student goes, it's important that they're led by committed faculty.

When your student gets to know their professors, they do better in classes and are challenged to become their best self.

Our campus at the University of New Haven is small enough to feel personal and manageable, yet large enough to offer new experiences every day.

Our faculty are committed to getting to know your student. They could even have a professor more than once, so those faculty will be able to get to know and support your student better throughout their time at New Haven!

"The low student-to-teacher ratio was a big draw for me because I don't like being a number. I want to be engaged and for people on campus to know who I am, and I get that as a student here."

Ariana Eastwood

Forensic Science Major, Class of '21

Sure Sign #3

Limitless academic opportunities

When your student has access to a wide range of academic options, top-notch facilities, and career-focused programs and internships, they'll be prepared for the future.

The University of New Haven provides limitless academic and co-curricular opportunities across our five colleges and schools. Every program is grounded in hands-on learning. For instance, at the heart of our campus is the Bergami Center for Science, Technology and Innovation. This state-of-the-art space features technologically-advanced "smart" classrooms equipped to provide the perfect place for students to learn, create, and collaborate with peers and faculty.

We're recognized as one of the
385 Best Colleges in the Country by
The Princeton Review.

Your student could find their calling at our excellent academic colleges and schools: College of Arts and Sciences, Pompea College of Business, Henry C. Lee College of Criminal Justice and Forensic Sciences, School of Health Sciences or the Tagliatela College of Engineering.

Success is built into the University of New Haven experience. We could be the perfect place for your student to thrive! Learn more about all we have to offer when you plan a visit to campus.

University of New Haven

Located in West Haven, Connecticut