

MARVIN K. PETERSON LIBRARY NEWSLETTER

FALL 2010

WELCOME BACK!

Let us help you with your research and instructional needs. Visit us at the Information Desk, call us at 203-932-7189, or email us at Library-help@newhaven.edu. In-depth one-on-one help with research and using databases is also available by appointment. Help is always available at the Peterson Library. All you need to do is ask.

JSTOR: A GREAT NEW DATABASE FOR RESEARCH!

Any student or faculty member needing scholarly articles for research will want to use the JSTOR database. JSTOR is a “trusted digital archive of over one thousand academic journals and other scholarly content.” The database is multidisciplinary, so it contains content from a vast variety of academic disciplines. To access this database, visit the library’s homepage, select databases and choose any of the databases that the library subscribes to, including JSTOR. The UNH librarians want to see the UNH community get the most out of this great new resource. Please feel free to stop by the library information desk any time for a demo of JSTOR. Or, call 203-932-7189 to set up a one-on-one appointment to have a librarian demonstrate JSTOR or any library database.

HELP WITH RESEARCH – LIBGUIDES!

Students now have a new resource for help with library research. LibGuides help you find the resources you need to be a successful researcher. For example, there are subject guides for many different academic areas including Biology, Criminal Justice, Education, and Forensic Science to name just a few. For each subject, the LibGuide demonstrates how to find books in the library, how to find articles, how to select the right databases, and how to get additional help from librarians. There are also research guides that explain such topics as Introduction to Research, Finding Articles, and Finding Financial Aid Information just to name a few. There is even a guide for the Common Read 2010 – Outcasts United that is bursting with information on the book, the author and all the great events taking place. There are currently over 60 guides with more on the way. Find all LibGuides by selecting “Guides” from the UNH library website (www.newhaven.edu/library) or go directly to libguides.newhaven.edu. Please feel free to suggest a guide on a specific topic if the topic you need doesn’t have a guide already. Faculty can also make use of this great resource by working with librarians to develop course guides that can be used as a resource for students. They can be integrated into Blackboard for students to refer to all semester long.

LIBRARY COMPUTER RESOURCES

The Peterson Library has nearly 100 computers to serve the UNH community. Five iMacs are available on the west wall of the entry-level Library Commons and they have all the i-features that Apple offers. SPSS Version 18 has been installed on all 54 PC workstation computers on the entry level, as well as on the 36 laptops which UNH students can borrow at the Circulation Desk for use in the Library. Be sure to have your UNH ID card with you. For policy info on the laptops, visit www.newhaven.edu/library/Services/Computers/23895/ or call the Circulation Desk at 203-932-7197. For quick service, we also have two print-only stations near the printers and a catalog-search terminal by the Information Desk. We now also have a color printer available as well as three individual print stations. Be sure to keep saving your work to a flash drive as you go along and remember to take your flash drive with you after you log off.

RESEARCH AND DATABASE WORKSHOPS

Open to the entire University community, these sessions are informal and require no previous familiarity with the databases or the subject matter. Let us help you get acquainted with our impressive online resources. All workshops will take place in Room 213, on the Library's entry level. For more information, go to www.newhaven.edu/library/workshops. Additional workshops listed on that page and/or individualized instructional sessions are available upon request. Stop by the Information Desk, call us there at 932-7189 or email LibraryHelp@newhaven.edu.

Returning visitors to the UNH library will notice a dramatic change on the ground level of the building. The UNH Center for Learning Resources (CLR) has relocated from its former home in Maxcy Hall and is now located in the library building. We welcome our colleagues from the CLR and look forward to cooperating with them in enriching the students' academic life and to making their time at UNH a success!

PRINTING IN THE LIBRARY

Print Green is the University of New Haven's print management system. It has been in place since November 2009 in a campus-wide effort to reduce paper waste.

Each undergraduate student has a printing allowance of $18 which is added to their Charger Card at the beginning of the semester. Each graduate student's printing allowance of $12. The student swipes their Charger Card at the point of printing and the cost is deducted from the printing allowance. Black and white prints cost $.08 per page for single or double-sided printing, color prints are $.50 per page.

Once the printing allowance has been spent, students have to option to use Charger Cash to add funds to their account either through Blackboard (on the Campus Card tab using a credit or debit card) or Charger Cash machines which accept both cash and credit cards. A Charger Cash machine can be found in the Library near the Information Desk.

Refunds for printing jobs that failed can be requested by using the online refund request form (<http://www.newhaven.edu/student-life/34760/>)

For further questions, visit <http://www.newhaven.edu/printgreen> or email printgreen@newhaven.edu

LIBRARY SCANNER

The scanner is located in the Library Reference Area. Documents can be saved on USB drive or e-mailed. The easy-to-use touch screen display makes the process easy. Currently, there is no charge to use the scanner.

LEISURE READING

Visit the library's leisure reading rack on the top floor of the library to browse the collection of books available for your reading pleasure. Recent books spotted on the rack were by popular authors such as James Patterson, Michael Crichton, John Grisham, and Debbie Macomber. These books don't need to be charged out; just take whatever strikes your fancy. You can either return the book or replace it with one of your own for another student to enjoy. It's a great way to enjoy some fun reading and recycle at the same time!
