The Department of Criminal Justice at the University of New Haven invites applications for a lecturer position (non-tenure track). In addition to teaching courses at the undergraduate level and potentially at the graduate level, the successful candidate will be actively involved with advising and mentoring students, along with internship preparation and supervision.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:
- Minimum requirement is a master’s degree in Criminology, Criminal Justice, or other closely related social science field
- Demonstrated commitment to experiential education, student success, and career preparation; inter- and intra-departmental collegiality also expected.
- Practical work experience and teaching experience are preferred. Experience in conducting investigations and ability to teach and mentor students in our Investigative Services concentration is desirable.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION:

The University of New Haven is committed to diversity and inclusion in higher education. The University seeks candidates whose teaching and service have prepared them to contribute to diversity, equity, and inclusion in our academic community. Applicants are asked to submit a statement explaining how their teaching and service will contribute to building and supporting diverse and inclusive communities.

APPLICATION PROCESS:

All information on candidates will be kept confidential. Review of applications will start immediately and continue until the position is filled. The anticipated start date is August 15, 2021, or earlier. Interested applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, diversity and inclusion statement, and contact information for three references. Electronic submission is strongly preferred.

All materials should be submitted online at: http://apply.interfolio.com/79931

The University of New Haven is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer